

San Benedetto del Tronto is one of the main holiday resorts of the Marche. It's a nice city in the Adriatic coast of The Marche region of Italy. It's in the province of Ascoli Piceno, south of Le Marche.

The city is famous for its nice beaches with white and fine sand. The shallow water is perfect for children and the elderly. The beach is 8 km long.

The particular thing of this sea city is the over 7 thousand palm trees that gives a touch of tropical charm. Palm trees are everywhere, including the beach, where they grow in the sand.

San Benedetto has been awarded with the blue flag, a European eco-label assigned into 21 countries across Europe to cities and towns near the sea. San Benedetto del Tronto has been awarded with the blue flag every year since 1998.
